

My Personal Experience at Pécs

Rodrigo Antonio Juárez Nieto

My name is Rodrigo Antonio Juárez Nieto. I am from Mexico City and study at Tecnológico de Monterrey. I am 22 years old, and I'm truly happy and honored to have concluded my semester abroad at the University of Pécs where I enrolled in the International Business and International Relations program.

Here, I was able to expand my horizons and learn about the foreign affairs of an Eastern European country, as well as impulsing my global networking abilities by creating strong bonds with citizens from several countries.

This semester was challenging at most, presenting several quests and surprises along the way. Additionally, I had the privilege of learning from amazing Hungarian, Croatian, Syrian and Kenyan professors.

I was able to live alone for a whole semester, learning daily life techniques and the challenges that a foreigner has to face in a remote country. It wouldn't have been possible if it wasn't for the amazingness of the city, such as their beautiful landscapes, buildings and late night Ice Creams at Ciao Bella in the city center.

I learned the principles and portrayal of eastern european businesses, as well as the importance of creating strategic alliances with international enterprises. Moreover, I mastered the verbal and non-verbal communication techniques that are used globally, as well as understanding the impact that each country has on these techniques and how they may vary accordingly.

Finally, I enrolled in two International Relations Master's subjects which taught me the Theories of International Relations and the Geopolitical Impact that each social, economical and political decision has in the global panorama, both through private and public entities and world leadership.

I would like to finalice by deeply thanking the City of Pécs, and Hungary, for receiving me so kindly and warmly during my residence. In case you consider the experience of an international academic opportunity, never doubt that the University of Pécs will be your greatest choice.
